Q9. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below: 15 Trees give shade for the benefit of others. They themselves stand in the sun and endure scorching heat. They produce the fruit by which others profit. The character of a good man is like that of trees. What is the use of this perishable body, if no use of it, is made for the benefit of mankind? Sandal wood-the more it is rubbed the more scent does it yield. Sugar-cane-the more it is peeled and cut into pieces, the more juice does it produce. Gold- the more it is burnt, the more brightly does it shine. The man who is noble at heart, does not lose these qualities, even in losing his life. What does it matter whether man praises them or not? What difference does it make whether riches abide with them or not? What does it signify whether he dies at this moment or whether his life is prolonged? Happened what those who tread in the right path, may, will not set foot in any other way. Life itself is unprofitable to a man who does not live for others. To live for the mere sake of living one's life, is to live the life of dogs and cows. Those who lay down their lives for others, for the sake of a friend or even for the sake of a stranger, will dwell forever in a world of bliss.
