Q. Read the following passage carefully and answer any 6 from question No.1 to question No.7. The rest of questions in the paper are compulsory.

Hughie Erskine, a French aristocrat was soft-hearted, well-mannered, and good looking with brown curly hair and grey eyes. He was very popular in his circle because of his good demeanor, gentle heart and unaffected plainness. He was once a successful tea merchant but a slump in tea trade badly affected his business. Consequently, he had to dismantle his trade. In the hay days of his tea-trade, Hughie's mother asked Colonel Martin for the hand of his daughter, Laura Martin, for her son. Seeing the thriving business of Hughie, the colonel readily agreed to give his daughter's hand in engagement. However, the consistent fiasco of his career in business made the colonel change his mind. Whenever Hughie's mother would approach the colonel for the marriage of her son with Laura Martin, he would bluntly say, "Come to me, when your son has got ten thousand pounds, and we will see about it".

Q1. Whose character do you dislike and why?
